March/April 2005

Sunnyvale Welcomes Its New Library Director

By Susan Denniston

The new Sunnyvale Public Library Director, Deborah Barrow, began her new position on February 28, 2005. Deborah was Library Director at Watsonville Public Library for the past nine years.

At Watsonville, Deborah worked on implementing new automation systems and technologies. She also worked with community groups and agencies to improve library services. Earlier in her career, Deborah was the Library Branch Manager/New Library Building Project Manager/Library Automation Manager for the South Chula Vista Library, near San Diego.

Within the Watsonville community, Deborah was on the Watsonville Community Hospital Board and was a past President of Soroptimist International of Watsonville and a member of United Way of Santa Cruz County. Deborah has also been active in the California Library Association. Deborah has a BA in Anthropology from Scripps College of Claremont and a Master of Library Science degree from the University of Southern California.

Please join library staff in welcoming Deborah Barrow to the Sunnyvale community on Sunday, April 10, 2005 from 2 to 4 p.m. We will be celebrating Deborah's arrival in Sunnyvale and the beginning of National Library Week with goodies, high spirits and an opportunity for you to meet the new Library Director.

California Stories Uncovered at the Sunnyvale Library

By Sara Kempen

Award winning author Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni will kick off the Library's California Stories Uncovered program on April 6th at 7 p.m. with an author talk and readings. Former Sunnyvale resident Divakaruni is the author of Mistress of Spices, Sister of My Heart, Arranged Marriage, The Conch Bearer, and most recently, Queen of Dreams. Both a novelist and an award winning poet, Divakaruni now teaches at the University of Houston. She is also a co-founder and past president of MAITRI, a helpline for South Asian women.

Ms. Divakaruni is one of the editors of an anthology of stories entitled California Uncovered: Stories for the 21st Century, the centerpiece of a grant from the California Council for the Humanities. The grant will underwrite several events at the Library including her talk, two book discussions, and a multigenerational oral history project. Check the Library for copies of the book and mark your calendar for these exciting events.

Other events around the area and around the state can be found on the Council's Web site: www.calhum.org.

NEW! Monthly Book Chat!!!

Find Hidden Treasures at the Library!

By Sue Kaplan

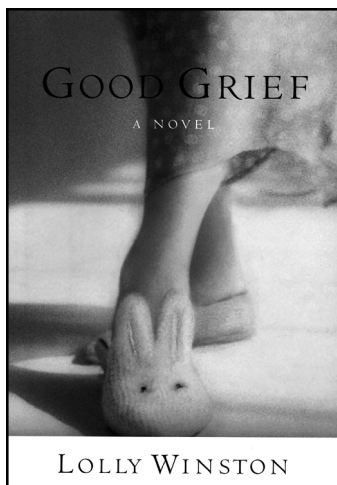

Have you ever wondered what librarians think are fabulous books? Do you want to find some great reads that aren't on the current best seller lists? On Wednesday, March 9 we will be starting a new monthly book chat program where you will hear about a myriad of books that come highly recommended by our librarians. We invite you to hear about books that we consider hidden treasures in the library!

Feel free to bring your lunch and join us in the Library Program Room from noon to 1 p.m. Feel free to arrive late or leave early as you need to during the lunch hour.

Author of Debut Book, Good Grief: A Novel, to Visit the Library

By Joan Jackson

Born and raised in Hartford, Connecticut, Lolly Winston moved to the San Francisco Bay Area in the early nineties, where she worked as a public relations professional. Her first venture into freelance journalism was as a stringer for Automotive News. After falling off the corporate ladder, she began working from home as a freelance writer for high-tech companies, and the San Jose Mercury News. Since then her work has appeared in the magazines Redbook, Family Circle, Working Mother, New Woman, Sunset, Lifetime and others. She has taught classes in freelance writing, and published short fiction in The Sun. On Tuesday, March 2, 2005 at 7 p.m., Ms. Winston will give a book discussion with selected readings from her novel Good Grief in the Library Program Room.

Good Grief is a masterful debut work. Set in the high-tech world of Silicon Valley, thirty-six year-old protagonist Sophie Stanton is "...in a high-achiever age when women are expected to be good at everything, Sophie wants desperately to be a good widow. A graceful, composed, Jackie Kennedy kind of widow. But Sophie is more the Jack Daniels type. Self medicating with cartons of ice cream for breakfast, and showing up at work in her bathrobe and bunny slippers, soon she's lost not only her husband, but also her job, her house, and her waistline." In Sophie's words: "The funny thing about rock bottom is there's stuff underneath. You think, This is it: It's all uphill from here! Then you discover the escalator goes down one more floor to another level of bargain basement junk." With a darkly comic edge Sophie manages to start over, and ultimately she discovers her own happily-ever-after."

Please join us to welcome Lolly Winston to Sunnyvale to discuss Good Grief. Refreshments will be served, and there will be copies of the book available for purchase and signing.

Downloadable Bestseller & Audio Books @ your library

By Christine Dextad

Don't have time to make regular visits to the library? Now you can download and read eBooks at home on your computer or download them to your PDA! Plus, download audio eBooks and either burn them to CDs or transfer them to your portable audio player.

The library has expanded its digital book collection to include hundreds of new titles from OverDrive, a company specializing in downloadable books. You can access the books through the Library's Web site and enjoy bestselling romances, mysteries, general fiction, travel guides, and audio books from home or at work. You will need to have a valid library card, access to the Internet and software for the device (available by free download) on which you wish to use your digital book.

This new collection is a shared collection with selected members of Califa, a network of California libraries. The titles have to be checked out just like any other library material, but one of the nice features of this collection is that your eBook will never be overdue! After 21 days, the eBook title will expire and be automatically "returned" to the library. You can check out up to five eBooks at a time and can put a hold on any title that is currently not available.

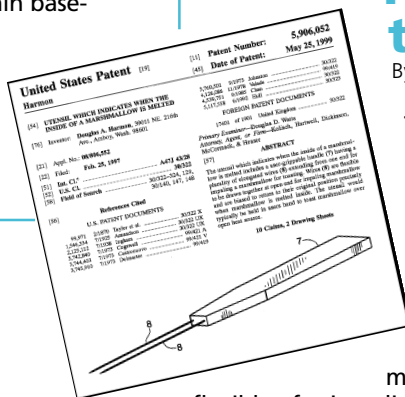

The library will be offering a class on how to use the new eBooks on Wednesday, March 30 from 2-4 p.m. Instructions will also be available through the Library's Web site. Please contact the reference desk for further information.

The Smore the Merrier

By Janet Berkeley

Tent – check; sleeping bag – check; flashlight – check; matches – check; "utensil which indicates when the inside of a marshmallow is melted" – check? The last item on this list of camping equipment is US patent #5906052, invented by Douglas A. Harmon. This device patented in 1999 guarantees no smore glum Boy Scouts sitting around the campfire due to over- or under-cooked marshmallows. The abstract states "wires are flexible...for impaling the marshmallow..." Sounds a bit drastic for a puffed confection. This item has to be up there with the banana holder for essential items. The inventing process can be a Rocky Road but librarians at Sc[i]³ can help with your patent and trademark questions. For smore information on Sc[i]³ services, visit our Web site at www.sci3.com.

Info on Wheels

By Betsy Wachter

You may have noticed the attractively decorated van parked in the Library's front parking lot every other Tuesday morning. Named "Info on Wheels," the van is an outreach service of the Community Child Care Council and funded by First 5 Santa Clara County, the organization commissioned to spend the state's cigarette tax revenue to support children up to age 5 and their families.

Parents are invited to stop by the van for child care referrals, nutrition information, resources for special needs children, subsidized child care information, and information about other services for families with young children.

Interpreters are available for Spanish and Mandarin speakers. Children are entertained with hands-on learning activities while their parents obtain the information they need.

The "Info on Wheels" van will park in front of the Sunnyvale Public Library from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesdays, March 8 and 22. The van also stops at Columbia Neighborhood Center and Sunnyvale Community Services on a regular basis. For more information about the van and its services, call 1-877-INFO-VAN, or visit the 4C Web site at www.4c.org.

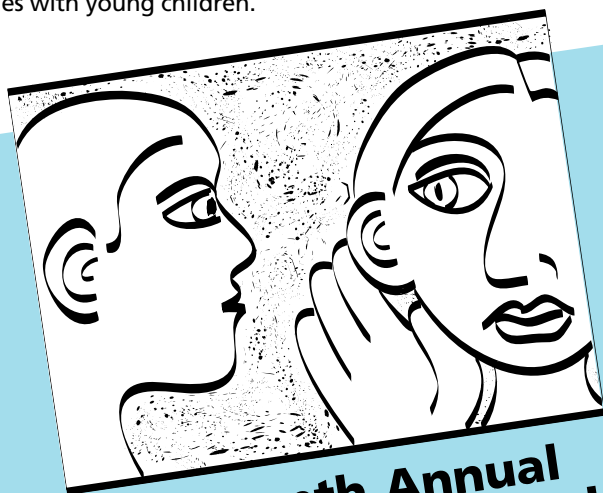

teens

Author Douglas Rees to Visit the Library

On Thursday, March 10th at 7 p.m., teens and adults are invited to enjoy an evening with San Jose-based author Douglas Rees. His books span a variety of reading levels, from the charming picture book Grandy Thaxter's Helper up to middle school and young adult novels, Lightning Time, Vampire High and Smoking Mirror. Rees, who was once a professional storyteller, brings this talent to the printed page, whether the story is about history, vampires, or a clever granny's encounter with Mr. Death. He will read from his works, tell a bit about his experiences in getting his books published, and give us a glimpse of works to come. There will be a book signing afterwards.

Sixteenth Annual Storytelling Festival

The Sunnyvale Public Library's 16th Annual Storytelling Festival will be held on Saturday, March 12, 2005 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Library's Program Room. This free program is for children age 6 and older and adults. The festival is a wonderful opportunity to hear storytellers share tales of fantasy, surprise, humor, and more. Stay and meet the storytellers afterward and fellow story-lovers too. "In our fast-paced electronic age, children and adults can still find pleasure in traditional storytelling. The staff of the Sunnyvale Public Library want to be a part of preserving this earliest form of entertainment," says Betsy Wachter, Supervising Librarian.

4 Food, Glorious Food!

By Susan Denniston

People who like food... to cook, to eat, to read about... have many options to indulge themselves at the Library in print and through online resources. The Sunnyvale Public Library has a scrumptious assortment of cookbooks. Within the cookbook section (beginning with call number 641), there are cookbooks that emphasize a certain ingredient such as chicken, chocolate or olives, cooking from a specific culture such as Greek, Chinese or French; or holiday recipes for Easter, Passover or July 4th. More delightful morsels found in the cookbook section include memoirs of famous and lesser known cooks, and essays about food and cooking that include descriptions of wonderful dishes.

Asian Wraps: Deliciously Easy Hand-Held Bundles to Stuff, Wrap and Relish

by Nina Simonds, 641.8 S Healthy and delectable recipes with clear directions and ingredients. Photographs good enough to eat. (If you choose to eat the photographs, please purchase your own copy of the book!)

Chocolate: From Simple Cakes to Extravagant Showstoppers

by Nick Malgieri, 641.6374 M Easy to follow directions, mouth-watering photographs, calories on every page!

The Gourmet Prescription: High Flavor Recipes for Lower Carbohydrate Diets

by Deborah Friedson Chud, 641.5638 C Barbequed Ostrich, Seared Duck Breasts with Red Rice Vinegar, Clams in Black Bean Sauce, Broiled Sesame Salmon... Yum! Recipes and photographs.

Toulouse-Lautrec's Table

by Genevieve Diego-Dortignac, 641.5944 D Culinary joys of an artist who loved to cook and eat. Gorgeous photographs, art reproductions, historical information, and recipes.

Vegetarian Soups for All Seasons: a Treasury of Bountiful Low-Fat Soups and Stews

by Nava Atlas, 641.813 A Delicious soups to please everyone. Favorites include Gingered Pumpkin-Apple Soup and Gazpacho.

The Library has print subscriptions to several magazines that can be checked out including:

Bon Appetit: America's Food and Entertaining Magazine

Monthly guide to luscious dinners, food destinations- travel and restaurants, recipes.

Cook's Illustrated.

Articles describing testing of cooking methods and recipes, analysis and comparisons of new kitchen equipment.

Cooking Light.

Information on exercise, nutrition, recipes, kitchen gadget reviews.

Gourmet: the Magazine of Good Living.

Monthly articles about food, restaurants throughout the world, brief up-and-coming chef biographies, recipes, dinner menus and recipes.

To find recipes online, here are a few good places to start:

Articles on cookware items of all kinds and food to purchase, such as mixers, gift baskets, small kitchen appliances.

www.epicurious.com

Recipes from Bon Appetit and Gourmet magazines. Easy to look-up by ingredients, holidays, events, etc.
